How to choose a solar light battery?

Capacity- It determines the operating time of a fully-charged solar light, and it is measured in milliampere-hours (mAh). Most of these solar light batteries come with capacities, ranging from 200 to 2500 mAh (or more). Select the battery whose capacity should match the solar lighting requirements for its optimal performance.

What is solar light battery capacity?

Battery capacity, measured in milliamp-hours (mAh), is crucial in determining the runtime and performance of solar light batteries. It represents the energy a battery can store, directly correlating to how long your solar lights will shine after a full charge.

How to choose a rechargeable battery for solar lights?

Also, the type of rechargeable battery your solar lights use will matter a lot. Prefer Li-Ion, NiMH, or lithium-iron phosphate (LiFePO<sub>4</sub>) batteries, which are generally considered eco-friendly, recyclable, and less toxic to the environment. While NiCd contains harmful cadmium and needs careful disposal.

What size battery do solar lights use?

The battery size can be in either A, AA, or AAA. A-size batteries are quite big and hold a lot of energy to illuminate the light for an extended period. So, they are ideal to use for high-power solar lights (not the regular ones). However, they aren't the preferred option for regular lights due to their bulky weight and large size.
